

Baseboarders-DIY Baseboard Heater Covers

Make them any color!

Baseboarders DIY covers are available from the manufacturer in a solid white finish.

All covers are powder-coated and can easily be painted to customize the color.

- Choose an enamel paint in a spray can applicator. High heat paint is not required. Gloss level is subject to personal preference.
- Latex paint without primer is recommended for optimal finish.
- A primer coat is recommended only if the heater covers will be installed in an area where kids may touch them or in a home with pets.
- There is no need to paint the interior of the covers.

Tip: Paint the covers by hanging each item using a coat hanger type of wire (every part has at least one hole).
